"Jeff,

I've made a citrus soap with lemon and orange zest. I too was concerned about the acid so I very finely grated and then dried it. However, I was not pleased with the final product. The dried zest was hard on the skin (unless you are looking for an exfoliating soap) as the soap wore down. Plus once dried the zest isn't very pretty and adds no smell to the soap."

"Thanks, Jill.

You guys have probably saved me from a bad batch of soap.

Jeff"
